ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY

Rajasthan Vidyapeeth was founded by late Manishi Pdt. Janardan Rai Nagar, noted litterateur, philosopher and educationist in 1937. Inspired by Pdt. Madan Mohan Malviya and Mahatma Gandhi. Pt. Nagar lit the lamp of education almost single handedly. He struggled hard and built a team of devoted workers who spent their life time in building up the institution. After decades of work in the field of worker's education, women's education, non-formal, adult and formal higher education, the institution was granted the status of a university on Jan. 12, 1987. Since then the University has grown tremendously. Presently, there are faculties of Humanities, Social Sciences, Commerce and Management, Education, Medicine, Adult and Continuing Education and Social work. The university provides Distance Education and has wide network of community and adult education centres in a large number of villages in Udaipur district. The university is set to serve quality education and thus awarded national award of Nehru literacy, FICCI award. It has also obtained B++ in the accreditation by NAAC. The university is spread in three separate campuses at Dabok, Pratapnagar and near the Town hall in Udaipur. The most striking feature of the University is its democratic functioning.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

Lokmanya Tilak Teachers Training College (CTE) Dabok is one of the oldest Teacher's Training Colleges of Rajasthan and was established in 1966 by Manishi Pandit Shri Janardan Rai Nagar. It is located in an ecofriendly surrounding and outstanding scenic beauty on the airport road 18km. away from Udaipur. The historical building where Colonel Tod wrote "Annals and Antiquities of Rajasthan" is also a part of this College. The College offers BSTC, B.Ed., B.Ed. (Child Development), M.Ed., M.A. Education and Ph.D.(Education) Courses. The College was up graded as college of Teacher Education (CTE) in 1993. NAAC Accredited 'A' grade to the college in the year, 2005.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

The most striking quality of global community is its connectedness. Advancements in the field of information and communication technology have bound nations together. The world is shrinking in the physical sense and is called a global village, but the world of human relationships in which man and nations actually live in the fullest sense, is not contracting at all, but expanding widely and rapidly. The conflicts between nations;- growing terrorism and danger to environment are the challenges of this global village. This shrinking world, resulting expansion of human relations are some other challenges of modern world. The challenges mentioned above justify a reconsideration of educational content and practice. We must make our work more consistent with global realities.

Education alone can offer a response to the challenges posed by modern, global realities. The students must acquire new knowledge, skills, attitude and values. For this, first of all teachers and teacher educators must acquire the requisite knowledge, attitude, skills and values. Hence there is a need to ensure that teacher education programmes are appropriately designed in view of the tasks teachers are called upon to do in the light of globalization. This is essential because performance of teacher depends on the professional preparation of teachers.

Almost all the National Documents on education published after independence have emphasized the need of reorganising teacher education programme in the country. But in reality, however, teacher education programmes today train teachers to adjust to the needs of a system in which education is seen as the transmission of information. The teacher education programme in the country has remained stagnant in its substance as well as practice. for years.

Thus, an urgent need has been felt to re-examine teacher education in general and in the light of global perspective in particular. The proposed international conference is a humble attempt in this direction.

SUB THEMES OF THE CONFERENCE

- 1 Basic assumptions of Teacher Education.
- 2 Changes structure and curriculum, delivery system of Teacher Education in the light of global perspective.
- 3 Contemporary global concerns and Teacher Education.
4. Teacher Education in different countries - New initiatives and Innovations"
